DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

2. Claims 1-104 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being clearly anticipated by Tressler et al (USP 6,281,666). Tressler discloses sensing the output voltage to control the phase voltage and also to control the quantity of phases to generate (see figure 1), the limitation of dynamically setting the phase interval in notoriously well known in the art by simply using an oscillator comparator circuit in order to dynamically set the phase intervals.
